Figure represents an individual's track. The colors represent the vegetation type. The y-axis is the distance from water.
Figure represents an individual’s track. The colors represent the vegetation type. The y-axis is the latitude, x-axis is change in time.
Figure represents an individual’s track. The colors represent the vegetation type. X and Y axis are long & lat.
Figure represents proportion of conifer along recreationists’ path as a function of distance to water, proportion of time spent in area as a function of distance to water, and the proportion of time spent in conifer relative to distance to water.