

Admission to OSU/INTO OSU after INTO OSU Suspension/Dismissal

What do dismissed/suspended INTO OSU students need to do if they want to apply to return for an OSU degree seeking or Pathway program?

INTO OSU students placed on suspension or dismissal (due to academic or attendance standing) will only be considered for admission to an OSU degree-seeking program or another INTO OSU Pathway program once they have satisfied all OSU transfer student requirements.

Formerly dismissed/suspended INTO OSU students are considered for readmission based on transfer requirements because they were not previously fully admitted to a degree-seeking program at OSU.

OSU Transfer Requirements

- 36 quarter hour (24 semester) graded, transferable credits from one or more regionally accredited colleges and universities.

Credit requirement will be based only on credits earned after term of suspension.

- Applicants transferring from a recognized college or university outside the U.S. must have a cumulative grade-point average of 2.5 or equivalent AND eligible to return to the institution currently attending or most recently attended.
- Applicants transferring from a regionally accredited college or university in the U.S. must have a cumulative grade-point average of 2.25, meet OSU's Math and Writing requirements for transfer students, AND eligible to return to the institution currently attending or most recently attended.

Students wishing to return to a language-only program (Academic English, General English, College Year Abroad) may be considered after a period no less than 2 years from date of suspension. Students seeking admission to the English language program would need to show proof of continued study during these two years and proof of grades will be required. Additional information may be required from student depending on the situation.

What happens to the credits earned during Pathway program for formerly suspended/dismissed students admitted to an OSU degree program?

Any academic credits earned during the Pathway program will be transferred to the OSU student transcript by the end of the first term of attendance.

What academic status will a formerly dismissed/suspended student successfully admitted to an OSU degree seeking or INTO OSU Pathway program have their first term of study?

Students admitted to an OSU degree-program or INTO OSU Pathway program following suspension while enrolled in an INTO OSU program will be returned to Probationary status in their first term. Students are then expected to maintain the satisfactory academic progress standards set out in Academic Regulation 22.
